Just a word about some of our troubles. You men have given us. Men who were of the political purposes, and, when trouble comes. lesert them. All the mobs which we have had in the South have been gotten up by bad men. I know we have had some lawless white men here, but the good people of the South must not be blamed for their acts. You have them at the North with you. This wild and fruitless contest has been going on for years, and who are the sufferers? The colored men, being the weaker party, always lose ground, and must, at ast, go the wall if the fight is kept up. I know you, in New Hampshire, may not see this matter as I do, but I tell you that the negro of the South must go under if the policy of the last few years is to be continued. Now, if the Home Mission Board discharges me for these sentiments I regret it, but cannot yield my honest convictions; I am sorry I cannot make them see the rightfulness of my position. You ask me what the persons who have contributed from time to time for my support would tbink. To this I would say, if they understood my tree position they would, I think, make those contributions more readily than ever. The negro is now passing through the most critical period of his history, and his destiny for good or evil will be sealed by his action. If he arrays himself against the white people, he must, sooner or later, be ground to

There is no natural antagonism between the two races in the South; the whites and blacks were born and brought up together. The late trouble at Hamburg, South Carolina, and other roubles we have had in the South since the war, have not been the result of any ill feeling on he part of our home people, but is the result of the action of bad men who have come South and kept up from year to year the most litter political contest, and have used every effort to keep the white and colored people from making friends. One of their principal means is the wholesale use of bad wbisky -also appealng to the very worst passions of the ignorant. perate and excite the feelings of our poor people, which might at any time be kindled into a flame which would result in bloodshed. I only have had one. Now, I say that every good man in the South, white and black, ought to join hands and rid our fair section from this terrible state of things. I hope you will not misunderstand me; these charges are not against the stairway which led down the outside wall of tell me if there is any foundation for the report good people of the North. We will give the North who may come among us for good purposes. I think that if you were to live here a few years you would take the same stand I have. We have some men from the North who are highly respected, but all of these take the same stand, and are not the men objected to. The colored men, if they are to be citizens of this country, must differ just as white men do on all the great questions of the day, such as finance, tariff, taxation, and questions of law, trade, &c. &c. Until we arrive at this point we will be mere machines, and not men

In conclusion I would call your attention to the report of the Hon. B. B. Douglas, of Virginia, on the Freedman's Bank fraud, and the speech of Hon. W. S. Stinger, of Pennsylvania, on the same subject. I would also call your attention to the large amount of money stolen from the widows and orphans of the colored soldiers and sailors. Please answer me a few questions. Who should be the best judge of the true condition of the Southern people, I who was born and brought up in the South, as I have been, and served twenty-seven years of my life a slave (when a boy I played with white boys and Hampshire or Maine know of our condition down here? THE SALEM SPEECH-FARMER GRURRS WAS THERE-A DESERTER OUT OF MEAT-SETTLE LIKPS WITH THE BLOODY SCENE AT DANDURY.

Special Correspondence of Raleigh Sentinel. DANBURY, N. C., August 18, 1876.

It has been the song of Judge Settle from every stump that Vance, when elected Governor, immediately went over to the secession and war party. But at Salem Vance sprung a paper on Settle, an old copy of the Salem Press that had been preserved by Mr. Masten, which came up as a witness from the dead past and covered the charge with confusion and defeat. Dr. Wheeler and old Solicitor Starbuck, at a meeting of the citizens of Salem twelve months after Vance had been governor, passed the most fulsome resolutions, landing Vance heavenward for sustaining the civil over the military. Ecce Wheeler! Ecce Starbuck! Vance was irresistible as he read these resolutions. He would read awhile and then pause and laugh awhile. The effect was prostrating to Settle and the Keeping Apples Through The Winter. Mr. Alexander Hyde, a well known agriculturists of Massachusetts, communicates to the New York Times some useful suggestions in regard to keeping apples through the winter. One method is to wrap each apple in a bit of old newspaper, the paper serving to keep out both the air and prevent the apples from bruising in transportation. A method more effectual still is to fill the barrels nearly full of apples, and then put in some dry fine sand, or powdered plaster, and shake it down gently. This will fill up all the interstices between the apples. Settle-"That's not so. No men were ever and keep them fresh indefinitely. ### OUR PLATFORM.

The following is the platform of the Democratic party in this State, adopted at the recent Convention held in Raleigh:

WHEREAS, The Republican party of the United States, for the last sixteen years, has had complete control of the Government in all its departments, and by its disregard of constitutional limitations; and by its disregard of constitutional limitations; by its unequal and oppressive taxation; by its extravagant and wasteful expenditure; by its unwise and mischievous financial policy; by its unexampled official corruption pervading all branshes of its administration—has brought disgrace upon our Government and unparalleled distress upon our people:

Resolved, That in this Centennial year of our existence, we invite all patriots to ignore all dead issues, to disregard the prejudices engendered by past tvents, and to unite with us in the effort to restore a constitutional, honest, economical and pure administration of the Government, and thus promote the general welfare and happiness of the country.

Resolved, 2. That we earnestly and cordially recommend the adoption, by the people, of the amendments to the Constitution proposed by the Convention of 1875 and thus largely reduce the expendition of 1870 and thus largery reduce the expendi-tures of our State and county governments and sim-plify their administration, so that we may be ena-bled to establish a thorough and enlarged system of public schools for the benefit of all the citizens of the State.

Resolved, 3. That notwithstanding our repeated Resolved, 3. That notwithstanding our repeated disappointments and impoverished condition, we still cherish the North Carolina project so long labored for by Morehead, Saunders, Fisher, Wm. Thomas, and others, of uniting the harbors of Beaufort and Wilmington with the great West, and the completion of the Western North Carolina Railroad to Paint Rock and Ducktown, and of our other unfinited registrate. We alsolve the continued use of ished railroads. We pledge the continued use of the convict labor of the State, and of such other ju-dicial legislative aid as will secure the completion of these great State works at the earliest practicable period.

Resolved, 4. That the people of North Carolina now have it in their power by an earnest, determined and united effort, to relieve our people from the evils of republican misrule, extravagance and corruption; and restore the prosperity of our country.

Resolved, 4. That we denounce official corruption wherever found, and we hold honesty to be the first and highest qualification for office. stood peeping up for an answer.

Settle as the Deserter's Friend.

A CHAPTER OF INDICTMENTS.

The argument most frequently heard in favor of the election of Judge Settle is based upon the claim he makes to having been the deserters' line for Vance. The answer is that he has met and companion and champion of deserters. But with shouts and greetings from large crowds of unfortunately for his argument, the records of this respect to be well founded. Very far in-deed from the truth is the assertion that he At Carter's mill, in Moore, the crowd was favored deserters, for the records of the courts two-thirds radical. That section was a laying-show that he prosecuted them relentlessly and show that he prosecuted them relentlessly and had before the war .- Davidson Record. mercilessly .- Speaking of Settle, then Solicitor, "the United States." Vance wore winning his action in regard to deserters, the Randolph Regulator tells the truth in plain terms, the drop on Settle in having the last speech, and and the Regulator knows whereof it speaks, for Randolph was in Settle's district. It says.

"The captain even sent a bill to the grand jury against one or more women for harboring leserters, one against Sarah Curtis for harbor ing Franklin Cross, for example. We will give a few other specimens of the bills sent to the Thursday added to the Tilden and Vance grand jury signed by the Confederate captain, to show what were then some of the worst crimes, h his judgment, perpetrated in Randolph: A bill against Adam Hoover for harboring Riley Vance-"Ah, now; no dodging. I answered McDower, charged in the bill to be a deserter; one against Green B. Ragan for harboring one Joel S. Ragan; another against Green B. Ragan for harboring one Henry Streed; one against Wm. S. Ward for harboring one John Ward; another against Wm. S. Ward for harboring one Joe Ward; one against Daniel Cox for harboring one John Holder; one against Jacob Haydock for harboring one David Wright. On all these bills the governor was marked prosecutor by the Confederate captain, so that he did not wait about sending the bills till some prosecutor appeared and forced him to act; but it must have been caused by either that longing for the Confederacy in the latter part of 1863 and 1864 when the bills were sent, which caused him to raise a company in the earliest part of the war, or the thought of the fees which he pocketed from these Union men when convicted Indeed, we are told that when the indictment have at last got an answer, that Holden was right in suspending the writ."

Indeed, we are told that when the indictment above named against Adam Hoover was tried at Spring term, 1864, and a verdict of "not at Spring term, 1864, and a verdict of "not guilty" rendered by the jury, the Confederate time, declared it had never been decided whether captain, showed evident signs of wrath at them, Holden had the right or not—it was still an gave them a lecture on their duty, and when the next case, "State vs. Green B. Ragan," was called, he inquried of one or more of the jurors if they had any scruples of conscience about finding a person guilty of the offence of harboring deserters, if the offence was clearly proved; being answered in the negative, he let the juror take his seat in the box, and went on with the APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE CHARLOTTE MINT. It will be remembered that some time age the House of Representatives passed a bill appropriating something over $2,500 for the mint in Charlotte The bill went to the Senate and was rejected. This appropriation, with many thers of a similar character, was brought be fore the Conference Committee for final adjustment. This committee agreed upon the following; For salary of assayer and melter $1,500; ment. for labor and other expenses $500; in all $2,000. It will be observed from the wording of this that it is intended that there should be a con-solidation of the two offices. Col C J Cowles, the present assayer in charge, has been written to by the authorities at Washington in reference the radical carnival of 1867-'69 and '70 appears to have been hit plumb, and from the scatteratory on it may be that some of the fragwill endeavor to subsist on $1,500 until the appropriation is increased, and the mint established on a firm basis. He attributes the refusal of Congress to grant larger appropria-tions, to the fact that several Western cities are clamoring for the establishment of a mint, and that the Congressmen from those districts hope to be able to secure it by starving out this one.

He was brought before the Court, and before any evidence could ground for purposes of inspection, examination be brought to bear in the case, the court decid-and survey, he saw neither stone nor evidences ed through his (Settle's) influence that it was not a bailable case and sent the aged minister of the gospel to the common jail, where he was kept about four months, until the next regular term of court, and there tried for circulating incendiary documents, and convicted through the evidence. His testimony is corroborated in the efforts of Solicitor Settle, who, on that occasion report of the fraud commission, published in [ not only did his duty as solicitor-but appealed 1871. It is circumstantially established that to all the lower passions of man, and all the party prejudices, by which, in the heated hour of excitement, men are so apt to be led astray. On that occasion Mr. Settle with masterly eloquence, and all the argument that his ingenious nind was capable of producing convicted Mr. Worth, who took an appeal to the superior court, when the self-same Solicitor urged that the bail be made excessive, and accordingly he was bound in a bond of five thousand dollars... in each of two or three cases, which his counsel eld to be excessive, and made a masterly effort to have it reduced, but Settle's argument prevailed, and not until Judge Bailey in erfered were these bonds reduced. And now in the face of all these facts and thousands of others, Judge Settle asks the people of North Carolina to make him their Governor, and claims to be ing ambitious young man offered Governor the champion of the nogroes' rights, a friend of Holden two thousand dollars a year, or half the Union! a lover of the old flag! a Republican! a Radical! and asks these freedmen to vote for him, when in 1860 he used all his powers to hang the man who dared to say the negroes ought to be free. Oh! consistency thou art a jewel! Can such a change be brought about o soon, in a life so inconsistent? The Whigh the Democrat! the Conservative! the Republican! the Radical Judge! the would-be Governor! This Judge is now using every means in his power that corrupt partizenship can bring to pear to make the people of North Carolina vote CONSISTENCY.

Is it Nothing to Pay Off the National

The New York Sun says: That Governor Tilden is an able, practical financier, there can be no question. In his letter of acceptance he shows the people how the whole National debt can be paid off in the comparatively short period of thirty-eight years, simply by the adoption of a financial policy which should secure to the country the highest credit. By wisely availing ourselves of this, he estimates that a reduction mony prevailed in the radical camp, only to be of one per cent on the interest of the loans could be effected; and this saving, invested at the would cancel our entire national debt in the course of thirty-eight years.

This is no chimera. It is no wild, visionary scheme, It is the Careful calculation of a practied business man, who knows how to put it in

We put it to the voters of the country, the sensible men, whether this payment of the national debt is not a consummation devoutly to be wished? The heavy burden of taxation which rests upon us would at least be removed from the shoulders of our children. Tilden, Economy, and the Reduction of the

Less than two years ago Samuel J. Tilden was elected Governor of New York. It was the year after the panic. The people felt poor and they demanded a reduction in the expenses of the Government. The New York Express, in the following language, gives Judge Settle a rap which he justly merits:

Mosby, of Virginia, the famed Confederate guerilla, proposes to be as good a Hayes and Wheeler man as he has been a Grant man. We are not sorry that either he, or Longstreet, or Settle, of North Carolina, have cast their lines upon that side of the ship. Like Holden and others they did their full share in bringing on the civil war, and are only consistent in the party which proposes to keep it up.

Settle's Memory.

Last week we noticed the charge against Capt. Settle, of drumming men from his company for cowardice. It was made to appear at Danbury, that it was for larceny that the men were drummed out. But the Raleigh News of the 27th, shows up the matter in another light, as follows:

The undersigned, citizens of Alamance county, formerly members of the 13th Regiment of North Carolina Volunteers, certify that they were present when said Regiment was organized and mustered into the Confederate service in May, 1861, at Garysburg, N. C., and that several members of Company I, in said Regiment, of which Company Judge Thomas Settle was Captain, refused to take the oath prescribed by the Confederate authorities, and were drummed out of camp by Captain Settle, with tin pans and having placards upon their backs, with this endorsement: 'I am a coward and refuse to fight for my country." The members who were driven out of said Company for larceny, left the Company long after this occurrence and the organization.

Just the Fact. [New York Sun.]

The recent proceedings in the House bring an instructive fact fully into view .-With the exception of one case, whenever the Democratic majority of a committee of the House have, after a full investigation, made a report against a Republican for misfeasance or malfeasance in office, the Republicans on the committee have made a minority report either going all lengths to shield the offending officer, or, where the facts painted him too black for that, covering him with the very thickest coating of whitewash they could lay on. cedure is the case of Belknap, the Secretary of War, who confessed his guilt and threw up the sponge at the outset, and thereby rendered a defence of his transactions impossible. From the invariable course which the Republicans in Congress have since pursued toward culprits far guiltier than himself, Belknap must bitterly bewail his pusillanimity in beating such a hasty retreat.

Thus stands the Republican record of the present House in regard to venality, fraud and corruption. It is without a parallel in the history of political parties in modern times, either in this country or in any other. And yet there are Republicans who seem to think their party can carry this load of infamy through the Presidential canvass without breaking down. The rogues in the party-and it is full of them - like it. Indeed, it is this class who have dictated this unscrupulous line of policy and compelled honest Republicans to follow them in the support of Hon. C. R. Thomas, of North Caroli- Hayes, or else bolt, as tens of thousands are doing, and vote for Tilden.

T. J. BROWN & CO. Nov. 18, 1875.

Of all the insects,-black or brown, That promenade us up and down, In rural haunt, or crowded town, For purposes nefarious. The vilest is the festive cuss, The bedbug, fierce and ravenous, By Culver called and Linneus, The Cimex Lectularius.

Faster than spawning fish it breeds; Upon our "wine of life" it feeds, Drawing the "claret" for its needs, From parts and members various, And of all the vermin sent by fate, Our minds and hides to irritate, The hardest to annihilate, Is Cimex Lectularius.

Truth crushed to earth revives again, And so does this infernal bane; You think that all the brood are slain, When, lively and hilarious, A raid they make at dead of night, Wrath adding venom to their bite; For bitter is the vengeful spite Of Cimex Lectularius.

If bedbugs warbled as they fed, A "welcome to your gory bed" They'd chant, as o'er your carcass sped The cannibals gregarious; For happy at his crimson meal, While spotting you from head to heal, You naturally suppose, must feel, The Cimex Lectularius.

Secure by day in floor and wall, From chink and crevice forth they crawl When utter darkness makes us all As blind as Belisarius, And so, though meek as any lamb, Under most common ills I am, I most particularly damn The Cimex Lectularius.

THE PEOPLE WANT PROOF. There is no medicine prescribed by physi cians, or sold by Druggists, that carries such evidence of its success and superior virtue as Boschfe's German Syrup for severe Coughs, Colds settled on the Breast, Consumption, of any disease of the Throat and Lungs. A proof of that fact is that any person afflicted, can get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try its superior effect before buying the regular size at 75 cents. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonder ful cures are astonishing every one that use it. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it .-Sold by Dr. V. O. THOMPSON, Druggist, Winston, N. C March 30, 1876.

BABEL.

"Babel may have split the dialect of earth into a thousand tongues, but amidst them all the old ver-nacular of ANGUISH still survives. And in the mu-sic of the spheres its maker may have given to our world its PROPER NOTE, but by the light of Egyptian brek-kilns and Druid bale-fires, and Assyrian con-flagrations, we are reminded that the ANGUISH of his FELLOW has ALWAYS been the AMUSEMENT of the WARRIOR and the SOLACE of VICTOR." Not so with the honored INVENTOR of the World-renowned Wilson Shuttle Sewing Machine: the warror's proudest achievements on the field of battle dwindles into inclining and the solatest achievements. to insignificance, and the victor's wreath of glory is a bubble, whether looked for on the Rubicon or the Rhine, when compared with the achievements that crown the labor and the wreath that endiadems the brow of their humanitarian in his field of usefulness, developing and perfecting the mechanic arts for the amelioration of the suffering of his fellows, the hardy sons and fair daughters of honest toil.—His fame has a more enduring monument than the page of history; it will live in the hearts of grateful millions so long as man exists and labor is a necessity of his existence.
